ISC Makes The Net Work

Over the past eight years, Information Support Concepts (ISC) has not only seen their business grow, but they have experienced a vast increase in the percentage of internet sales. Currently ISC's online business is at 80% which is a flip-flop from the feet-on-the-street sales that initially grew the company.

The internet alone is not the sole source reason for their success. Intense training and customer relationship management also play a key role in ISC's incredible growth. This balanced blend of well trained people and constantly monitored technology has brought ISC to where it is today.

To view ISC's wide array of computer related products, go to their website at www.iscdfw.com Let the net work for you; or, call 1-800-458-6255 for additional information or assistance from one of their knowledgeable account managers.
